

Till this world is one (1)

Today in the fields around the House of worship

4 junior youth were playing with a cat

We said hello and explored how we can serve our community They said: We want to make everyone feel at home let's fight prejudice with the power of friendship

We are ready to love them, they are ready to change this world (x2)

I saw a junior youth there was sadness in his eyes when I asked him why he said I wish people could be themselves and be their best (x2) I believed they were champions and would be as one soul we could be true friends give our lives for each other But they became even more They were not afraid even to climb a wall when it was for an important goal And what's important was doing their all for one another.

Till this world is one (2)

We are ready to love them, they are ready to change this world (x2)

landing on an unknown shoore my heart cries out no more war anymore my home has crumbled into the sand here i've found my haven, my friends in a neew land my ears have been accustomed to the echoes of destruction and my heart has dropped with the bodies of too many here my soul is training to run a marathon never to stop til this world is one

We are ready to love them and they are ready to change this world (x2) Till this world is one
